BUILDERS ORDERED TO RESUME WORK ON JACKSON ST. BRIDGE

Officials of the Waupun Iron Works Waupun, had in their hands today a letter, demanding that immediate steps be taken to make passable the bridge now under construction over Rock Creek at Jackson street. The letter was sent at the request of city councilmen by City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham.

Disputes of local officials has been aroused by the company failing to carry out terms of its agreement with the city. The bridge is said to call for the widening of the bridge at the intersection of Rock Creek and the city, with the understanding that the concrete railing, sidewalks, curb and gutter might be poured next spring.

It was pointed out in the letter that all bridge workers have left the city and that construction seems to have been entirely abandoned until spring.

Labor troubles, inability to secure materials and shortage of coal, advanced as excuses for the delay have been made. The city councilmen are determined to have the structure at once put in temporary shape for travel.

The Janesville Sand & Gravel company has been notified by City Clerk J. F. McCue, at the request of the city, to avoid driving heavily loaded gravel trucks over Monterey bridge, because of the frailty of that structure.

The company is asked to divert its traffic to and from the Samson Tractor plant via Main street, Beloit and Eastern avenues.

A truck and load which combined weight of from 15 to 17 tons is not conducive to the safety of the bridge, especially when three of them are on it at one time, aldermen declare.

Acting upon advice that Eastern avenue will not be fit for heavy truck travel until the Samson bridge is completed, Mayor Welsh has consented to allow the trucks to traverse Monterey bridge until the new bridge is ready.

$25,000 FIRM FORMED TO DEAL IN JUNK

Cohen brothers and Katz Iron and Metal company, with shop and yards at 628 North Bluff street, has been incorporated for $25,000 under the laws of Wisconsin, according to papers filed today in the office of the register of deeds here. The concern, which formerly was known as Cohen Brothers, will conduct a general mercantile, commission and trading business.

The purchasing, holding and selling at retail and wholesale of junk, furs, hides, tallow, oils, fats, soaps, iron, sheet metals and rubber will constitute its particular attention. Samuel Katz, Simon Katz, Alex. Cohen and Jacob Cohen are the incorporators.

The Katz brothers and Cohen brothers started 19 years ago, with out a cent of capital. By borrowing money in small amounts from local bankers they started two junk collecting routes in a meagre way, gathering things other people threw away. At one time, the Cohens sought to borrow an additional $10,000, but they were refused. In their persistent way they procured the money from another bank. Later this second bank refused another loan, but the Katz gave it. By efficient methods, the businesses were built up, were recognized by bankers and business houses. The consolidation marks a new era in their success.

PUT ON THE BRAKES.

One hundred and fifteen deaths from the drinking of wood alcohol and the list grows.

The "wet" see in this an argument for their cause, claiming people will go to any length to get substitutes for the liquor which they have been deprived. The "drys," calling it anti-prohibition propaganda, draw a comparison, saying this number of fatalities is few compared to the harm done when saloons were legalized and wide open.

The outstanding feature is that the deaths have occurred, while many others have been blinded or otherwise made physical wrecks, because they found alcohol easily procurable. Disregarding arguments for or against prohibition, so long as the country has been voted dry, some method must be found to make it more difficult to buy or sell alcohol in any form.

A new food bill is now up in congress. The suggestion of the Chicago health commissioner to attach a rider to it against uninvested sales of wood and grain alcohols deserves the support of every congressman. Registration of purchasers of alcohol and the use to which they intend to put the poison would curtail to a great extent the ability of the general public getting it for drinking purposes. Restriction of the sale to particular places, like drug stores, would go far toward tracing sellers of death-dealing booze.

DISEASE, NOT PROGRESS.

The moves being made in congress to furnish laws against the radicalism aimed against the government reflect that the people have the measure of the disturbers and want an end put to the abuse of free speech and the hospitality of the country. The numerous examples in the United States of men rising from humble positions to political eminence show that those who have worth-while ideas can always count on respectful attention in this country.

The trouble with the Redists is that instead of representing progress in political science they represent a reactionaryism that would carry the people from sane democracy back to jungle life. Instead of being political geniuses they are a form of political disease. They only emphasize this when they ask: "What if Washington or Lincoln had not been permitted to express himself to the utmost?" What, indeed, but what has that to do with the case of the immigrants who would turn political liars before they even know or recognize the duties of citizenship? It is worse than impudence when some upstart alien likens himself to Washington or Lincoln; it is a silly insult when his action takes the form of anarchy.

It was time for loyal Americans, who find no lack of freedom of speech for their purposes, to spur their representatives in congress to provide against those who would interpret free speech as license for every form of treacherous campaign. What American city, or community, does not resent demonstrations against the government? There should be tolerance for no campaigns in this country by aliens directly against the principles Americans hold dear.

Provide any further laws needed for dealing with the situation, and meanwhile keep up the demand for vigorous enforcement of the measures we have.

PERSHING AND POLITICS

General Pershing, we learn from first-rate sources, has not the least idea of standing for the presidency, or of having anything to do with politics while he is in the army.

The profound good sense of this decision challenges our admiration. By his undoubted qualities of leadership, evidenced by his skill in helping to achieve victory over the Germans, General Pershing won for himself and the army deathless renown. The contrast between his high position in public esteem, and the present low state of politics and politicians, is marked.

General Pershing and the army, by their spirit, dash, and energy, achieved results that made us all proud to be Americans. Since they finished their task, the politicians in and out of office have thrown away most of the spiritual fruits of victory, debased their country in the eyes of the world, and caused thinking men to hang their heads in shame.

General Pershing does well to stay out of politics. He would do well to decline the presidential nomination even if it were offered him. Partisanship has become so bitter that no man can accept office and be sure that he will come through without being smirched and discredited. General Pershing would have much to lose and little to gain by running for office. His place in history is secure.

BUSINESS, BEFORE AND AFTER.

In the six years before the war we imported from Europe about one-half as much as we sold the Europeans. Today they are selling us only one-sixth as much as we sell to them. The change, of course, is almost wholly in our exports, which have grown from not quite eight billions for the six years before 1914 to nearly 21 billions in the last six years.

Our imports this year were almost double those of 1918, but our exports will not cover the bill. Exceeding our greatest war year exports by over a billion. These colossal figures show how much more heavily we are interested in foreign trade than before the war.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

THE NEW YEAR.

Out of the kindly hand of Time another year we come to take.
We've lived the old, from first to last, we know its every joy and ache;
We've met its tests and sung its songs, we've shared its gray skies and its blue,
And putting by its sheaf of days, we turn with hope unto the new.

Whatever was of pride and shame that marked the old year's course must stand.
Some pages joyously we penned, and some in sorrow's trembling hand.
But as we thumb the finished book, we find some brighter than the rest,
And we recall they mark the days when we had risen to our best.

Those days we stood by friends in need or helped another in distress,
Now glisten as the days which seemed to bring us close to happiness.
And looking back we can recall no happy time was ours to know.
But it was something of ourselves which we had given that made it so.

Out of the generous hand of Time we come to take another year,
And each of us from day to day must write upon its pages clear.
God grant that we shall kinder be, speak less in blame and more in praise,
And by the splendor of our lives make this a year of happy days.

war. Nine or ten years ago our exports amounted to a little more than one billion. If, through the inability of Europe to purchase our goods, our sales abroad should revert to anywhere near those figures, consider the effect on this side. But with the political and economic wisdom in international councils demanded by the European situation, the removal of political handicaps, the return to work and the restoration of trade, Europe, given a little time, can regain its feet.

The deported Reds who took about $500,000 in American currency with them will discover the difference between good money and worthless stuff when they reach Russia. When exchanged for the soviet brand there will be a lot of millionaires in that crowd.

Berlin's board of education will clean the school libraries of all books "contradictory to the new spirit of the times." If the "spirit of the times" is interpreted correctly, that will help.

The success of the Philadelphia church in boosting attendance at Sunday school by offering a pound of sugar to each person is easily understood, but where do they get the sugar?

The closing of eating houses in Berlin by a strike leads to the wonder if anything the allies can do to Germany can equal what Germany is likely to do to herself.

New Zealand will go dry next June, but it is so far away that even were it to remain wet it could do nothing to relieve the American thirst.

With civil war threatening below the Rio Grande, Mexico must feel that the old days are returning.

Their Opinions

There seems to have been more than one way of getting Judge Gary to meet labor's representative. The next note from Carranza probably will be an excuse for the delay, based on the claim that he had trouble in loading his fountain pen.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

His Business Is Picking Up

Birth and Death Records

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, Jan. 2.—If your life is a business, it is a business of the most interesting kind. It is a business of the most interesting kind. It is a business of the most interesting kind.

The importance of birth and death records is shown by instances that occur every day. There is the case of the man who was born in 1916 only 12 states registered births satisfactorily, and before 1900 few states kept complete records of vital statistics.

The closing of eating houses in Berlin by a strike leads to the wonder if anything the allies can do to Germany can equal what Germany is likely to do to herself.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

ROY E. MOUTON

We are not at all astounded to note the current news story to the effect that a New York man has raised a one-legged chicken. Hen savants and poultry scientists are very much excited, but why? One-legged chickens have been very common in our life.

For nearly a year we had one Every Sunday for dinner. At first we were puzzled. Because back on the year, we have obtained the opinion of an expert shopper, and these, we find, are her instructions:

For the very young baby, your own, or your friend's, buy an automatic revolver or a chafing dish that runs by alcohol. A racing car is also neat and appropriate. For a boy of about 15 years we would suggest a clubby roaster. A double-barreled shotgun would also be acceptable.

There is hardly any rheumatic old grandfather who would not appreciate one of the smaller types of motor boats which are manufactured now in great profusion. That will make forty-one miles an hour would doubtless please him. If you don't feel quite up to this expenditure, try a bicycle or an athletic suit.

There is no man of forty who would not appreciate a nice woolly dog or a Noah's ark. Perhaps, also, a bisque doll would do. For any housewife there is always a motorcycle or a box of good cigars. She might also enjoy an adding machine, a good lawnmower or a toboggan suit or golf set.

So many people make absurd mistakes, but there is nothing to it if you go at it scientifically.

THE DOUGHBOY'S PROTEST.
"It gets my goat," the soldier said. "I hear that you fellows are saying that firms should give us jobs ahead of other men today. Why they should GIVE us anything is more than I can see. For we have EARNED jobs when we bring our country victory!"
—T. Benjamin Faucett.

The Gazette maintains an Information Bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information, may write a letter to the Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by the bureau.

Q. Is it correct to say "two of the Adamses were killed?"
A. This form of plural in a case of this sort is entirely correct.

Q. What is the origin of the term "Armageddon"?
A. Armageddon was the name of the plain of Esdraelon, the famous battlefield of the Jewish nation. It was there that the issues upon which the destiny of the race depended were settled. Armageddon has therefore come to typify the last stand, the battle for existence.

Q. Where is the greatest pipe organ in the world?
A. What is undoubtedly the largest and probably the greatest pipe organ ever made was that which was played in Festival Hall, in St. Louis, during the exposition in 1904. It was originally in the Convention Hall, in Kansas City, but was never accepted. It remained in storage for years and was then bought by John Wanamaker and installed in his Philadelphia store, where it is played every working day. The organ weighs 375,000 pounds.

Q. Does the price of a pipe organ make a profit on the pennies it manufactures?
W. E. D.

A. Pennies are made of 95 percent copper and 5 percent nickel and zinc. The material which goes into them costs about 22 cents a pound and this pound makes up into 120 one-cent pieces. They are distributed to banks at their face value, so their profit is a dollar a pound, less the cost of manufacture which is not great.

Q. Where can I get a book which will give me a preliminary knowledge of French?
T. C. R.

A. The Washington Information Bureau of this paper will send you, free of charge, a little book of elementary French, used by the marines when they were going to France. If you will write the book's name and address and enclosing a two-cent stamp for return postage. Ask for the French vocabulary.

Q. What is the most famous of St. Gaudens' statues?
P. H.

A. The heroic statue of Lincoln, at the entrance to Lincoln Park, in Chicago, is one of the best of St. Gaudens' statues. There is a statue known as "Grief," which stands in Rock Creek cemetery, in Washington, that some hold to be his best example of inspired genius.

Q. A friend of mine argues that seven gallons of liquid may be put into a cubic foot. Is that right?
A. Your friend is right. There are a little over seven gallons in a cubic foot.

Q. What is the oldest city in the world?
A. The honor of being the oldest of all extant cities must be given to Damascus in Syria. Other cities were built before it, but they have perished, or been destroyed.

Alienists Are Questioned In New Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Defense counsel for Harry New, on trial here on a charge of murdering his fiancée, Lorraine, exposed to close their case today with the testimony of five alienists. Lorraine Davis, counsel for New, stated he would ask the alienists a hypothetical question of from 5,000 to 10,000 words, based on all testimony introduced and that he expected the defense experts to answer it by stating the defendant was insane.

Census Takers Start on Difficult Task in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Four thousand enumerators today commenced the task of counting New York's population. The task is one of the greatest problems confronting the census bureau, officials said, and special attention had been given to instructing the enumerators here. The ever changing population of Manhattan island, its ceaseless activity tending to keep persons constantly on the move, and the vast number of residents of foreign birth, living in congested districts added to the normal difficulties of census taking.

Celebrating Auto Freezes As Boss Drinks "Hip Rum"

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(By Associated Press.)—The new year was ushered in accompanied by a sudden change in temperature that caught many celebrators unawares, whose automobiles were stationed outside the various hotels and restaurants, and were frozen. The principal hotels and restaurants were filled to capacity with guests, many of whom carried their own "artificial cheer" on their hip.

DETROIT SIGNING ITS 1920 PLAYERS

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 31.—The signing of players for the 1920 Detroit American league team is under way. Two pitchers, two catchers and two outfielders were among the first to sign contracts. They are Hubert ("Dutch") Leonard and Bernie Boland; Eddie Ainsworth and Oscar Stange, and Robert Veach.

The usual stories that Ty Cobb, the Tigers' star center fielder, may not play ball next year are circulated, but little credence is given them. Cobb's contract holds over for another year, and it generally is expected that he will be with the club on opening day.

The Detroit club will train at Macan, Ga. The pitching staff is scheduled to start south on Feb. 22, the remainder of the team following a week later. Exhibition games in the south again will be played with the Boston Nationals.

A proposal that the Tigers play the Cincinnati Nationals April 10 probably will not be accepted. Conflicting dates is given as the reason. An effort is being made to arrange a contest on that with the Indianapolis team of the American Association.

ALL-STARS TAKE GAME FROM J. H. S.

In a rough and tumble basketball game played at the Y. M. C. A. last night, the All-Stars, junior champions of Janesville, defeated the high school regulars 19 to 16. Hall and Powers of the school team were put out of the game in the second half because of four personal fouls each, thus greatly weakening the five.

HARVARD SQUAD ON WAY TO CAMBRIDGE

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 2.—The Harvard football squad which defeated the University of Oregon team here yesterday by a score of 7 to 6, planned to start today for Cambridge, Mass.

Robert Fisher, coach, said the victory over Oregon, the first scored by an eastern team in a western bowl, in the annual intersectional contest here, came largely as the result of the pluck of the Harvard team and not because the eastern boys outwitted the westerners.

Proof of Soul's Immortality At Hand, Says Belgian Poet

Maurice Maeterlinck and his wife, photographed on arrival at New York. He is little short of six feet in height. His broad shoulders are those of the athlete. He is round-faced, of ruddy, outdoor hue, and his eyes are gray-blue.

The Belgian author and philosopher said he has an "open mind" on these things. He is little short of six feet in height. His broad shoulders are those of the athlete. He is round-faced, of ruddy, outdoor hue, and his eyes are gray-blue.

He gave as one concrete "proof" the fact that 50 years ago two German doctors discovered a fluid in the human body "which could be guarded in a bottle after death and which did not die."

The common belief that thought is only a secretion of the brain is still further reason for his belief in an undying soul examples to prove the existence of a sub-conscious mind.

Maeterlinck said, "but I reserve to myself the right to study further these things."

Maeterlinck might have made a handsome cleric had he entered the priesthood his parents had destined for him. He is little short of six feet in height. His broad shoulders are those of the athlete.

News Notes From Movieland

Connie Talmadge is always keeping people guessing. In her pictures she is usually a little disturber and in real life she seems much the same. When she puts her hair bobbed in a moment of frivolity she startled everybody. She was not content, however, to merely bob her own hair—she tried to get every one of her screen friends to do likewise. Viola Dana and the Gishes and all the rest of her acquaintances were tempted to do away with their long and unruly locks. In fact, Connie was so very persistent that her friends used to hide the scissors when she said them a visit.

Now Miss Talmadge has started everybody by refusing to comment upon her recent engagement. We know several swains who are pining away because they feel sure that the report is true that Miss Constance Talmadge, the pretty sister of Norma and Natalie, is engaged to Irving Berlin, the famous composer of popular music. Neither of the two will have anything to say about the report and in view of the fact that recently the two have been seen together often, well, there seems to be nothing for the disappointed youths to do except transfer their affections to Natalie, the youngest Talmadge.

A STAR OF YESTERYEAR Maurice Costello, he of the curly hair and romantic build, who thrilled feminine fans when the photograph and the author, liked it even if it doesn't meet with your approval. Frank Keane made the man contest at present engaged in a Coogan Griffith's newest picture, "Humane Collateral."

GOSSIPY BUS Madeline Traverser, Fox star, having completed "What Would You Do?" Denison Clift's original story, is taking a short vacation.

One awaits eagerly the screen up

ELECTRIC RAILWAY ASSOCIATION TO MEET

(By Associated Press.) Cleveland (By Mail).—The American Electric Railway association will hold its midyear meeting in Cleveland on January 3. The association, which is a membership organization of electric railways in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and South America, expects to have approximately 1,000 delegates.

The report of the Federal Electric Railway commission, appointed by President Wilson, to study the electric railway situation of the country and to make recommendations for solving traction problems, is expected to be made public in the near future. She was the first woman law clerk in the treasury, having been appointed in 1895, and has proved herself a lawyer of exceptional ability. She is a quiet, unassuming woman with a boyish way of speaking which is most attractive.

During the war she spent (all) months abroad doing legal work in connection with lost, forged or destroyed checks, of which there were a plenty, she says. It is her grievance against the war that she didn't get to wear a uniform, such garb not being prescribed by the treasury department. And she does not mourn the lack of military dress while at the war for any such feminine reason as the loss of an opportunity to get into a bayonet and demanded explanation, or refused to listen to any explanation, whichever might make it harder for her.

But the worst thing happened when she was in Germany during the armistice. She had to change lines in May, and cross through the station to another track. When she got into the station the German ticket agent refused to sell her ticket or to let her through, and the French sentry refused to let her back the other way. Finally a large

Alkali in Shampoos
Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright and fluffy, wavy and easy to handle.

Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Warm shod—dry shod—clean shod

The new "U.S." Walrus means all three

HERE at last is the overshoe that combines all the qualities you've always wanted! Look it over—it's the new U. S. Walrus.

It's an all-rubber overshoe that's absolutely waterproof. It's got a warm, snug-fitting fleece lining. It's convenient because you slip it right over your leather shoe—then push it off with your toe when you're through.

Best of all, the U. S. Walrus can be instantly cleaned. You can work for hours in the stickiest barnyard mire; then a pail of water or a rinse at the pump washes the U. S. Walrus clean—removes every trace of mud from its smooth rubber surface.

The comfort and convenience of the U. S. Walrus are backed up by real strength. A staff of experts have designed it—have made it an overshoe that is built to last. At every single point, where the wear is hardest, the U. S. Walrus is heavily reinforced.

Your feet will always be warm—dry—clean shod with the U. S. Walrus. In every way, it's the farmers' ideal overshoe.

Ask your dealer to-day to show you the new U. S. Walrus. After you've worn a pair for a day or so, you'll realize why they're fast becoming so popular with farmers everywhere.

Other "U.S." models—all built for the hardest wear

Whether you prefer a boot or a bootee for the wet season, a "rubber" for general use, or a cloth-top arctic—you can find in U. S. rubber footwear exactly what you need.

Tough, heavy soles—special reinforcements at toe and heel—and always the highest quality rubber—these points are winning U. S. rubber footwear thousands of new friends every year. Look for the U. S. seal—it means solid wear and long service for your money.

"U.S." Arctic—made of snow-tight, warm, waterproof, and comfortable. Reinforced where the wear is hardest. In one, two, four, and six buckles, all weights and sizes.

"U.S." Felt Boot—made of heavy, finest quality felt, all sizes. For wear with one- and two-buckle U. S. Pat. sections.
